Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2295698A2] The arrangement has an outer profile (13) provided with a strengthened glass retaining strip (8) e.g. solid glass retaining strip, where an inner profile (1) and the glass retaining strip form a holder for a surface element (2). The outer profile comprises a connection profile (12) for connecting the inner profile. An isolating profile (16) is provided between a section (15) of the inner profile and the connection profile. A connection device e.g. screw, is provided for detachable connection between the connection profile and the glass retaining strip. An independent claim is also included for a window or a door.
