Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2010000402A1] The invention relates to a method for imprinting printing paper (1) with at least one decor (2) comprising a decor image (3) for use in flat components, particularly floor, wall, ceiling or furniture applications, wherein the printing paper (1) is imprinted by a digital printing device using a digital printing method. In order to provide a printing method for producing prints of high print quality, the invention provides for the printing paper (1) to have a continuous edge strip marking (17) parallel to the decor (2) and with at least one longitudinal colored strip (18) printed thereon and for the print quality to be monitored as a function of the edge strip marking (17).
