Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2299010A1] Waste treatment apparatus (10) and process comprising a treatment unit (12) wherein the waste to be treated is introduced and a collecting unit (13), connected and arranged downstream of the treatment unit (12), in which the treated waste is collected. The treatment unit (12) comprises grinding means (17) shaped in such a way as to grind by abrasion the waste introduced into the treatment unit (12). The collecting unit (13) comprises at least a tank (29) connected to the grinding means (17) and shaped so that the waste ground by abrasion by the grinding means (17) is separated into its material components by a gravimetric criterion.
