Abstract (en)
[origin: AT506415A4] The device (1) has a display element (2) moveable in a direction and along a base element (4) in another direction via a support (3), where the latter direction is normal to the former direction. A major scale, a perfect minor scale, a harmonic minor scale, a major triad, a minor triad and inverses are displayed on the base element. The display element includes a transparent display field. A melody note line, a conducting note line and a bass note line are displayed on the display element, where musical notes correspond to a keyboard display arranged on the display element.
