Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2311423A1] The orthopedic adapter (4) comprises a coupling unit (5) for coupling the orthopedic adapter with a coupling device (6) to the coupling points of an operation table (1). A central arbor (7) is connected with the coupling unit, where the central arbor is made from a non-metallic material. A universal mounting (8) has another coupling device. An independent claim is included for an operation table with a leg level hinge.
