Abstract (en)
The system (100) has an alarm system (10) and an escape signal unit (21) for indication of an escape route. The system indicates a deployment way to a place of work for rescue forces. A change-over between the indication of the escape route and the indication of the deployment way is provided by a control panel (33), which activates the indication of the deployment way. The system activates a deployment signal unit (31) depending on a deployment way process, which indicates the deployment way. The deployment way is indicated by clear pictograms.
