Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2314433A2] The negative mold (6) comprises a core (10) with a filling space (16) which faces a limiting upper surface (20) that comprises an area of 10 millimeters. The fusion point is provided at 20 degree centigrade or at 100 degree centigrade. The negative mold comprises the filling space for filling a concrete mass. An independent claim is also included for a method for producing a sluice.
