Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2317260A2] The refrigerator has a carrier (6) movably arranged on a cooling chamber (3) by a telescopic extension. Two pairs of first and second projections and first and second receivers are interlocked with each other and are arranged relative to each other in the carrier and the telescopic extension in the vertical and horizontal directions, respectively. The second receiver and the second projection are elastically interlocked with each other without any clearance between the second receiver and the second projection.
