Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2322049A2] The fastener has a fastener part with a laminar base fabric (14) formed from warp threads (10) and weft threads (12). Functional threads projects from a front side of the base fabric and partially grasp the base fabric to form a fastening unit. The base fabric is a non-flame retardant type and includes a carrier layer partially on its rear side. The carrier layer is formed with a flame resistant medium or active extinguishing medium.
