Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2010031484A1] A roof covering module with a module body which can be integrated into a house roof covering, and with a photovoltaic unit attached to the module body, is known. Accordingly, the invention provides that the module body is structured as a dual-shell hollow plastic body (3) wherein the two shells (5, 6) are welded together at the perimeter of the edge regions thereof. Used for hip roofs.
