Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2325416A1] A perimeter protection system for construction sites comprising guides (22) fixed to a slab through a support means (31,32), the guides (22) being coupled to one another through attachment means (5) allowing the quick and simple vertical progression of the system. Protection means comprising a net (42) and two beams (41) are fixed between each pair of guides (22) such that a screen type perimeter protection is obtained.
