Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2010023359A1] The object of the invention is an arrangement and a method for handling interconnectable structural elements (3-5) to be assembled into a protective wall, wherein the structural elements are arranged to be fixed one on top of the other or side- by-side for transportation. For the purpose of transportation, the structural elements (3-5) are fixed to each other into a self- supporting transport package (1).
