Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2330342A2] The light (1) has a fastening element (10) arranged at an external side of a light housing (2) for fastening and/or arranging the light at a support structure, where the fastening element is locked and/or snap fitted with the light housing. The fastening element has a latch engaging in an engagement opening (5) that is formed in the light housing, and a locking projection is formed in the latch. The locking projection cooperates with a locking opening (6) in the light housing, where the locking opening is separated from the engagement opening.
