Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2332881A1] The tank container has a lockable standard steel container and a single-or multi-walled storage tank (1) mounted within the steel container. A separation wall (20) is fused with the lateral outer walls and the base plate of the steel container. A gas pump (5) is mounted on a platform in a collecting chamber (4). The security and remote monitoring devices are provided, which ensures permanent remote monitoring of the filling Output quantities.
