Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2333187A1] The arrangement has a clamp (2) attached at a roof module, and an edge-or side folding formed at a roof slab (1) along an outer edge or side edge of the slab. An end (3) of the clamp is angled with V-shape and is overlapped with a ridge (5) of the folding. The folding comprises a groove (4), which runs along the outer edge and is directly adjacent to the outer edge of the slab. A free face of angular offset of the clamp is engaged in the groove. An end of the groove forms a locking flank (7) and is turned towards the ridge. An end of the free side is supported at the locking flank.
