Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2340742A1] The stand (1) has a bearing structure (2) comprising two posts (3) extended vertically from a support (4), where each post has an internal face (10) bored with superposed openings. An assembly of displaying and/or storing element (20) is extended transversally between the poles, and lateral edge of the element receives connection central parts. The central parts circumscribe two fixation straps at same height on the posts for directly stopping the element at the posts of the bearing structure in inclination corresponding to angular position of the central parts.
