Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2341196A1] The basin i.e. urinal basin (102), has a mixing arrangement (114) arranged above or in an upper part of a bowl (104). The mixing arrangement includes an inlet pipe (118) that is connected to a mixing chamber (116) to supply liquid i.e. flushing water, to the mixing chamber. A metal holder (126) holds a hygiene product i.e. solid hygiene product, such that a section of the holder is arranged within the mixing chamber to mix the hygiene product with the liquid in the mixing chamber during utilization. Drain pipes (120) extend between the mixing chamber and the bowl.
