Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2010049151A2] The invention relates to a device (2) for fastening a cap figure (4) having a cylindrical socket (6) to a beverage bottle (8). The invention furthermore relates to a combination of such a device (2) and a cap figure (4) as well as to a beverage bottle (8) made of plastic that, together with a said device (2) and a said cap figure (4), forms a sales unit. In order that the cap figure (4) can be connected to beverage bottle (8) as part of the sales unit in an aesthetically pleasing and sales-promoting manner and can be removed easily, the device (2) according to the invention comprises an element (32, 60, 100) with means (34, 76) for removably fastening the cap figure (4) and a recess (36, 64) for receiving a screw cover (14) and/or a neck portion (18) of the beverage bottle, said neck portion having outside threads (16).
