Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2342999A2] The arrangement has an entry area (3) closable via a door (4) in a water-sealed manner. A locking device (8) locks the door, and a drainage siphon (9) is provided with a closing device, which closes the locking device only in a locking condition. A mechanical transmission arrangement (11) i.e. rope or wire traction unit, connects the proper mechanical operating locking device with the closing device in a control-technical manner. The transmission arrangement is blocked, when a flap, is not found in a deflected position. The transmission arrangement is mechanically connected with a bolt.
