Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2010008346A1] A self-cleaning spray system is disclosed that has a spray pipe having at least one nozzle in a wall of the spray pipe such that, during a spray operation, fluid is sprayed in a spray in a spray plane from the at least one nozzle. A cleaning pipe is spaced from the spray pipe and has at least one outlet to direct fluid towards the at least one nozzle and into the spray pipe for cleaning the at least one nozzle during a reverse flush operation, the at least one outlet being spaced from the spray plane.
