Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2010052270A1] The present invention relates to a real-time identification set comprising a plurality of real-time identification substances that differ from one another, wherein each real-time identification substance is a partial amount of a pre-determined total amount of feature substances. The real-time identification substances are used in an unpredictable sequence for different, unpredictable application time frames for real-time identification of goods of any type, in particular consumer goods with a short shelf life.
