Abstract (en)
A rehabilitation exercise device includes a head support unit (1) having a head cushion (11) adapted to support the head of a user, and a frame (12) holding the head cushion (11) and having two opposite connection ends (120). Two side cushions (2) are disposed respectively on two opposite sides of the head cushion (11), and are connected pivotally and respectively to the connection ends (120) so that the side cushions (2) are rotatable toward or away from the head cushion (11). Abiasing unit is connected to the side cushions (2) to bias the side cushions (2) to rotate toward the head cushion (11).
