Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2354024A1] The package has closing units located in corner zones of a container (1). The closing units are constituted of grooves (6) that are formed in edges of the corner zones of the container and elastically guide and house outer edges (7) of a lid. Each groove has an incision or cut formed at a level of flat base (8) of the groove over a length equal to length of the outer edges of the lid. Each outer edge has a free abutment clipped by insertion in the incision or cut when the abutment arrives to a level of the incision or cut.
