Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2354036A1] The package (10) has a removable shovel made of plastic and provided with a support part extending in a primary plane and supporting an individual part (12) of a food product, where an edge (30) of the shovel extends perpendicular to a plane from the support part. The edge extends from the support part. Another two edges of the shovel extend perpendicular to the plane from the support part. The three edges of the shovel are arranged with respect to each other so as to limit displacement of the food product according to direction perpendicular to secondary direction.
