Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2355054A1] The device (3) has a coin storage drum (15) with a case (16) that is radially and inwardly open, and slot-shaped openings (21) assigned to different coin types in a plate (14) and in a direction, which is radially and inwardly arranged towards the case. Ejecting devices are assigned to the slot-shaped openings in the plate for ejecting coins (5) provided in the case by the slot-shaped openings. A control device (27) controls a drive device (24) and the ejecting devices based on a respective position of the case and the respective type of the coins accommodated in the case. An independent claim is also included for a cash point system comprising a device for coin separation.
