Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2357414A1] The bush-bearing (19) has a plant flange (21) that serves as a stop part on a front side panel of a muffler of a domestic appliance, where the bush-bearing is placed in a recess of the side panel. A rear connecting part is provided in the recess. A constant opening (20) is formed for an admission and execution of a partial area of a construction unit of the domestic appliance. The bush-bearing is formed from a ceramic material e.g. magnesium silicate ceramic, steatite ceramic, cordierite ceramic and forsterite ceramic. An independent claim is also included for a domestic appliance comprising side panels with a recess.
