Abstract (en)

An article having an inner article layer (204) and an outer article layer (202) to be worn by a mammal comprising a thermally insulating layer of a reflective metal (260) polymeric insulation material (120,140) adjacent to at least one of the inner and outer article layers. The insulation material provides enhanced thermal retention. The insulation material may comprise a foam material, a multi-film assembly or a bubble pack.
