Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2363678A2] The repeating rifle has housing, an impeller and a closure (3) that is locked with the impeller and is guided in housing, where the impeller is connected detachably with the housing. The impeller is connected firmly with a locking bush at its rear end, where an inner wall of the locking bush forms a locking zone with locking parts. The outer wall of the locking bush is seated in housing.
