Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2010066376A1] A reliable and long-lasting electrical contact connection (2) between a stripped aluminium conductor (4) and a contact element (8) which is connected to said aluminium conductor is provided by the aluminium conductor (2) being cohesively connected to an adapter element (6), and the adapter element (6) being mechanically connected to the contact element (8), and therefore the aluminium conductor (4) being indirectly electrically contact-connected to the contact element (8) by means of the adapter element (6).
