Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2371729A1] A flip-lid container (10), is disclosed comprising a container body (11) to retain contents such as cosmetic creams or unguents. The base and side walls of the container body define an opening through which the contents can be removed. A lid assembly (12), operatively attached to said body covers the opening, the lid assembly (12) having a lid (13) mounted via a hinge (14) which enables the lid (13), to move between an open and a closed position.
