Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2372231A1] The light has a reflector assembly (120) insertable in an assembly direction into an assembly ring (100). The ring has a catch unit (145) cooperating with another catch unit (105) on an outer side of the assembly in a mounted condition of the light to hold the assembly in the ring against the assembly direction in a catch position. The catch unit of the assembly is movable along the assembly direction so that the catch units of the assembly and ring are disengaged from each other and are movable lateral to each other against the assembly direction for removal of the assembly.
