Abstract (en)
[origin: CA2749179A1] A security pouch (10) made of plastic, which is used to receive and to transport valuables, has a lower (11) and an upper plastic layer (12), which are joined to each other, forming a closable access opening (16). At least in some sections, the security pouch is provided with a single-layer or multi-layer indicator layer (17), which produces a color change in the event of mechanical damage and in particular slitting.
