Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2384998A1] The cover (20) has a covering component (23) and another covering component (24), where the covering components are connected with each other in pivoted manner. The covering components are connected by a flexible connecting unit (30). The flexible connecting unit is provided between the two covering components. An independent claim is also included for a garbage container, particularly garbage large container with a garbage container body.
