Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2392752A2] The locking unit (12) has a locking element (16') and an actuating element (18), where the locking unit is locked by actuating the actuating element. The actuating element is switchable from a switching position into an unlocked position. A control element (54) is equipped with an electric drive unit (55) which is coupled with a blocking device (50) in a mechanical or magnetic manner. An independent claim is also included for a door or window.
