Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2402522A2] The installation board or heat insulating plate (1) is made of inorganic or organic substances, and has a sharp edged structure (5) incorporated in the substances on adhesive side (3), which is connected to a bottom chord. The sharp edged structure has pole-shaped projections (7) which are arranged particularly horizontally in series and vertically running on the adhesive side of the installation board or heat insulating plate. An independent claim is also included for a thermal insulation composite system.
