Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2407061A1] The container has a roll-like cover (6) for closing an access port in a housing. The cover comprises a seal part (11) i.e. belt strap. A stock unit e.g. connection unit (14), winding unit (15) and winding axis (16), guides the seal part via a gap between the cover and the housing and/or a gap between the cover and another cover. The stock unit cooperates with a clamping device for the seal part. The clamping device is connected with the cover in a region of the gap to be closed. The clamping device bypasses the gap by utilizing the seal part and remains between the cover and another cover.
