Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2407603A1] The mounting medium (1) has a mounting frame, on which a front panel (2) is attached. The front panel is passed through for fixing a plumbing element (3) of a fastener (4). The fastener is anchored at a crosshead of a mounting frame. The front panel is formed by an upper section (8) and a lower section (9) designed in a plate-shaped manner, where an intermediate space exists between the upper section and lower section. An independent claim is also included for a method for mounting a mounting medium.
