Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2410618A2] The unit (12) i.e. sealing strip (20), has a first opening (16) attached at a locking bracket, and a second opening (14) for a housing-sided fastening bolt and a third opening (15). The third opening is arranged at the sealing strip in such a manner that the third opening is attached at the fastening bolt by the second opening by a detachable connection unit. The third opening prevents actuation of the locking bracket from the fastening bolt. The three openings are provided in a position on a common geometric axle at the sealing strip. An independent claim is also included for a plug-in connector housing comprising two housing parts.
