Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2010108728A1] The invention relates to a band, in particular a wristwatch band, comprising a closure (10) for varying the length (11) of the band that is formed by two band parts (1, 2). The closure (10) can be fastened on a first band part (1) in an adjustable manner and on a second band part (2) in a releasable manner. When the closure (10) is fastened to the second band part (2), the first band part (1) partially covers the second band part (2).
