Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2412542A1] The sheet has a support (1) covered with a stack formed of a marking layer (2) and an adhesive layer (3) e.g. hot melt adhesive layer. The stack is affixed on a product by a press in pressure on the stack. The adhesive layer permits adhesion of the stack on the product. A zone of the marking layer is extended beyond the adhesive layer such that the zone forms a tab (L) not stuck with the product for being manually gripped to unstuck the stack from the product after the stack is affixed on the product. Independent claims are also included for the following: (1) a method for fabricating a transfer sheet (2) a textile product comprising a marking.
