Abstract (en)
A self-adhesive notepaper holder, wherein the casing is combined with a bottom plate; the casing is hollow and provided with removable notepaper; a groove is set onto the casing surface to facilitate access to the removable notepaper; the casing is provided with an opening, so that the bottom plate can be pushed or withdrawn; the base of the bottom plate is provided with a longitudinal concave mating surface, onto which viscous gum or double-sided adhesive tape is applied to fix onto the penholder for easier operation; with this configuration, the self-adhesive notepaper holder allows users to incorporate it onto a pen cap and use it more efficiently in the office work.
