Abstract (en)

The present invention relates to a cooker (10) with a rear sheet (13). In order to prevent the cutting of the cookers' supply cables (30) by the rear sheets (13) of the cookers, said cooker comprises a body (21); a holding part (23) which provides the assembly of said body (21) to the rear sheet (13) of the cooker (10); a cable protector (20) with a protection wall (22) extending along the sharp surface in order to protect the cable (30) from the sharp surfaces of the sheet; and a housing (131) which is formed for placing the cable protector (20) on said rear sheet (13) and which has a connection extension (132).
