Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2166163A1] The device has a mounting frame with securing elements securing a sanitary body. A cistern is mounted on the mounting frame, and a covering (14) conceals the mounting frame at the front, where the covering has a decorative element (15) made of glass or a composite material, which conceals the mounting frame at the front. The covering is secured to the mounting frame, and another decorative element (26) conceals the mounting frame at the top, where the latter decorative element is designed as a removable cover for the cistern.
