Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2444328A1] The case (1) has a flexible plastic sheet (2) and another plastic sheet possessing closed sides except a side with an access passage to inner space of the case. The passage is equipped with an adhesive joint or glue (11) with a removable protection strip (12) inserted between the sheets. The strip includes an outer edge (12-2) extending in coincidence or removal relative to access edges of the sheets except release portions (15) of the sheets partially extending at back of the outer edge and along limited length of the outer edge to uncover corresponding portion of the strip to grip the strip. An independent claim is also included for a method for manufacturing a case.
