Abstract (en)
An exhaust aftertreatment module (100) comprising a plurality of mounts (202) for connecting the module (100) to a surface (5). The mounts (202) are arranged in a radial pattern around a central location (204) of the module (100). The mounts (202) also have a direction of travel (208) aligned with a radial direction of expansion (210) that passes through the central location (204).
