Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2011003955A1] The invention relates to a method for receiving and/or dispensing or for returning bank notes, wherein bank notes to be received or dispensed or returned are transported from or to a feed and dispensing position to or from a processing position. According to the invention, at least one feed speed is determined for the bank notes during a feeding of bank notes to be received, or at least one removal speed is determined for the bank notes during the dispensing or return of bank notes to be dispensed or returned, and the bank notes to be received are transported at a transport speed, which corresponds substantially to the feed or removal speed, while the bank notes to be dispensed or returned are transported at a transport speed that corresponds substantially to the removal or feed speed.
