Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2011010091A2] A clothes hanger (1,2, 2X) comprising one, two or more planar elements together defining a hanger shape for suspending a garment, at least one of the planar elements having an opening (5, 7B, 7D) an indicating element (9) or other information element, and movable into a position, retained between the planar elements, in which position at least one marking on the indicating element (9) may be visible through said opening (5, 7B, 7D). The indicating element (9) may bear a plurality of different markings and may be movable into different such positions in which a different one or ones of the markings is or are visible through the opening (5, 7B, 7D). The indicating (9) element may be insertable between the planar elements through a hole (6) in one of said elements or through a gap between said elements at the edge of the hanger. There is also provided attachable shoulder-pieces (21 A, 21 B, 46R, 46L) which may be moulded or made from one or more layers of material to provide a contoured support for a garment.
