Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2463455A1] The device (1) has a U shaped clamp (2) with upper and lower rectilinear arms (4,5) that are threaded on a lower edge of a roof cover and fixed to the edge of the roof cover, where the arms of the clamp have same length. The arms are parallel and elastically surround the edge of the roof cover under the action of clamping force exerted on the arms by a bend (10) connecting one to the other of the arms. A wedge is interposed between one of the arms and the edge of the roof cover.
