Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2465699A2] The stack or collection structure comprises several precursors (11-14) which are arranged directly one above the other and detachably interconnected with each other. One of the precursors having folded edges (11a-14a) is releasably connected between the adjacent precursors which are contacted with each other using the adhesive regions (15-18). An independent claim is included for manufacturing method of stack or collection structure of flat precursors.
