Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2468133A1] The component (1) has profile elements (3, 4) arranged at front side of a furniture plate (2). One of the profile elements partially projects an upper surface of the furniture plate on longitudinal sides (30) of the furniture plate, and comprises an opening (31) for a fastening element. The profile element is bond-connected with the front side of the furniture plate, where the profile element is made of polymeric material. The profile element includes a flexible layer (10) partially arranged on a side opposite to the front side of the furniture plate.
